INTRODUCTION

The Ocean Foundation has developed a new online clearinghouse for all harvest strategy related material “HARVESTSTRATEGIES.ORG” by its International Fisheries Conservation Project. The “harveststrategies.org” serves as a resource for fisheries scientists, managers, and other stakeholders, compiling information about how harvest strategies work and how implementing this pioneering management approach can lead to sustainable, profitable fisheries and successful recovery programs for many species around the world.

Click <https://harveststrategies.org/> to visit the website. An introductory poster is attached below for your information.
